RESIDENTS RESPOND TO 2019 CITIZENS SURVEY

2012 was the last year Grandview conducted a Citizens Survey. Back then, Sam's Club had announced its plans to relocate, Price Chopper was the only store keeping Truman Corners alive, and age was taking its toll on most City parks where kids played on outdated playgrounds and equipment.

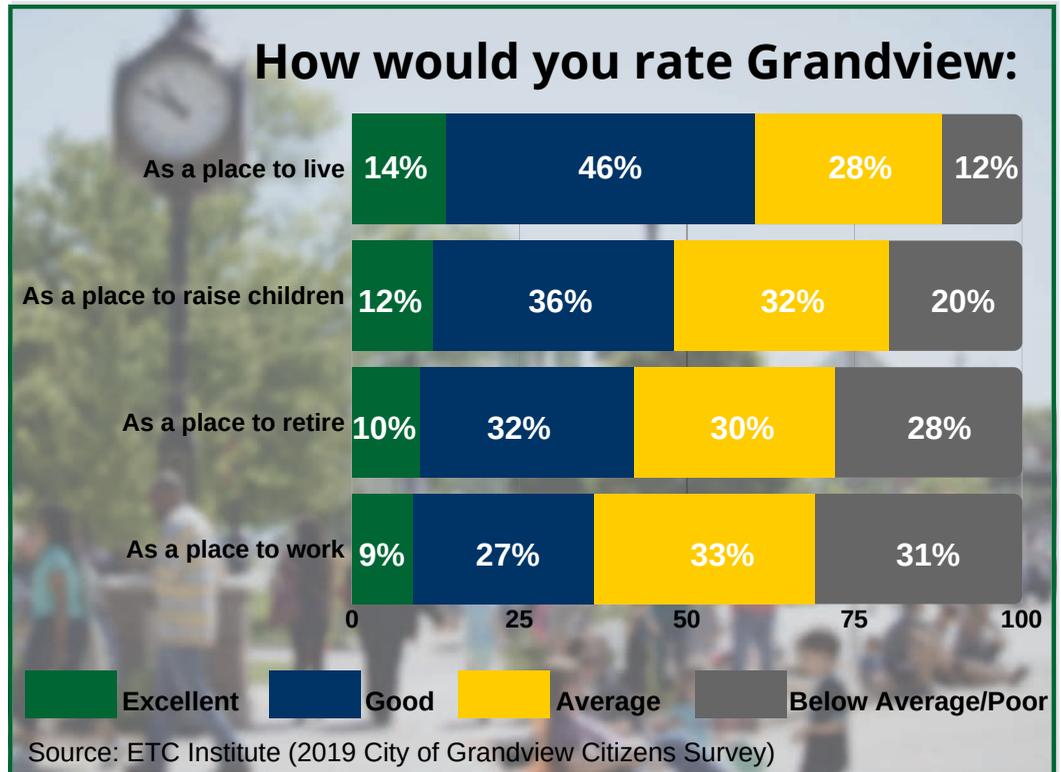

A lot has changed since 2012, and 2019 was the right time to return to citizens to measure perceptions about the City and its services.

The results help determine priorities for the community by letting City leaders and staff know what's being done well and what needs improvement.

ETC Institute conducted the five-page Citizen Survey in the summer of 2019. The 421 responses collected cover all City wards, demographics, and socioeconomic backgrounds equally. The survey has a +/- 4.8% margin of error.

THE GOOD LIFE

One of the best results to see from a City standpoint is the percentage of citizens giving life in Grandview high marks.

60% of citizens marked Grandview as an "excellent" or "good" place to live (see chart above). That's 5% higher than results from the last Grandview Citizens Survey.

More people also believe Grandview is an "excellent" or "good" place to work compared to

to the 2012 survey.

Also improved: affordability of Parks & Recreation fees, the overall quality of the City's special events and festivals, and the overall quality of the City's Parks & Recreation programs and facilities.

SETTING THE STANDARD

When it comes to City services, Grandview is setting the standard for customer service.

57% of citizens reported being "very satisfied" and "satisfied" about interactions with City employees. That's 15% above the national average.

"Excellent customer service is a hallmark here at the City of Grandview," explains City Administrator Cemal Umut Gungor. "I'm encouraged citizens are experiencing this and expect those numbers to grow in the future."

Other City services are also beating out the national averages. Police, fire, and ambulance services, and parks and recreation

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

While Grandview has made some progress, there's always more work to be done.

The citizens survey asked residents to prioritize three City services deserving of the "most emphasis" over the next five years.

Citizens responded with overall maintenance of City streets, sidewalks, and buildings, overall quality of new development and overall enforcement of City codes and ordinances.

"Nearly 70% of citizens marked recent improvements and development as 'excellent' and 'good,'" explains Mayor Leonard Jones. "But citizens are also telling us they want more. And we're working on it."

Some citizen priorities are already being addressed by the present budget.

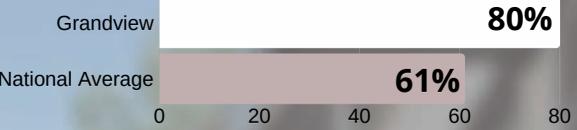

Overall Satisfaction with Various City Services

Grandview vs. National Avg.

Overall quality of...
-police, fire and ambulance services

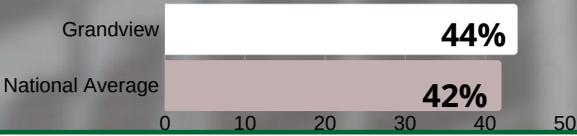

-parks and recreation programs & facilities

-communications with the public

Overall maintenance of City streets, sidewalks and buildings

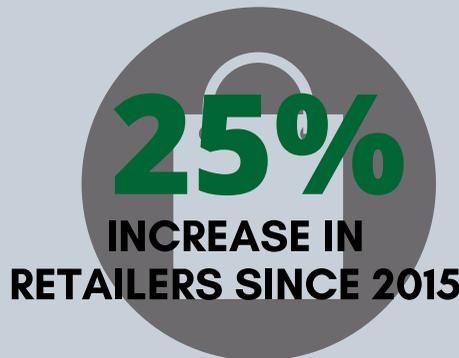

In 2020, funding for sidewalks doubled and Public Works received more money for snow removal.

The 2019 Citizens Survey results are available on the City website at www.grandview.org/NEWS.

CITIZEN RECOMMENDED PRIORITIES FOR IMPROVEMENT

- Overall maintenance of City streets, sidewalks & buildings
- Overall quality of new development.
- Overall enforcement of city codes and ordinances.

2019: BY the NUMBERS

ESTIMATED VALUE of COMMERCIAL CONSTRUCTION

SNOW WAY

We've been lucky having had only a couple of snow events so far this winter; but it's still the best time to remind residents how Public Works responds to snow and ice.

#1. When winter weather is in the forecast, Public Works crews pretreat the streets. This mixture makes it harder for snow and ice to stick.

#2. As snow falls, or ice accumulates, crews focus only on snow routes.

#3. When the snow or ice stops, Public Works' goal is to hit all streets within 48 hours in this order: snow routes, secondary streets, then cul-de-sacs and dead ends.

Regardless of the treatment, drive slowly and cautiously in winter weather. You can monitor conditions during winter weather at www.grandview.org/SNOW.

THE VIEW

The View expansion project is expected to be completed by late fall of 2020. This project is the last project from the no-tax increase Bond package that passed in 2014. Inside the expansion, we will add new weight equipment options to accommodate all fitness levels. We will also add phone charging stations and exchange our current cardio equipment with new equipment. Once this project is complete, we will host a Grand Re-Opening of The View Community Center. Follow us on Facebook for the latest information on this project.

ENJOY THE VIEW IN 2020!
